All Systems GO! Resources

Educational experts shared a vast variety of resources and documents to support the transformational work taking place in your communities. You can access all the presentation and supporting documents for All Systems Go! -----> HERE

Stay Connected

The Community Schools Resources Network offers a directory that connects Community Schools with Community-Based Organizations (CBOs) within the district. It provides school leaders with a comprehensive list of local CBOs. To recommend the addition of a potential community partner, or to update a community partner's information, please complete the Resources Directory Form

ALL SYSTEMS GO!

The "All Systems Go: Coherence Across Systems" event, held on August 1 and 2, 2024, was a key moment in building partnerships between education and community systems to support student development and success. Attendees connected with over 36 education experts and 50 community representatives, sharing innovative strategies. Keynote speakers, including Dr. Bruce D. Perry, offered valuable insights on topics like trauma and resilience. The event aimed to streamline services, align legislative requirements with practical tools, and enhance capacity within educational systems, contributing to a movement addressing historical inequities and promoting integrated education in California.

What are people saying about All Systems Go!

"Kids will say they are seen, they are known, and they are supported. To me, that means they know they are loved."

"Times like today are critical. We come together and use each other's expertise because there's good work happening."

"I needed to move forward. I needed to be challenged. So I am here. I'm in Fresno. I came from LA. I'm being challenged all day long."

"Let's recognize how much this really takes. It's elegant, but it's complex. If we get the right people on the rocket, and the rocket is going in the right direction with the right support, it's going to be good for our kids."

COST OF POVERTY EXPERIENCE

In August, the Kern County Superintendent of Schools (KCSOS) Community Schools team, in partnership with the Equity and Inclusion Department, facilitated the Cost of Poverty Experience (COPE) for staff at the Rio Bravo-Greeley Union School District, a grantee of Kern County's Community Schools initiative. The COPE simulation offers a profound exploration of the realities of poverty through the perspective of actual families. The event also saw the participation of fellow Central Valley Regional Technical Assistance Center (CV-RTAC) coordinators from Fresno.

One staff member reflected on the experience, stating, "Living in a state of survival is incredibly stressful. It makes me angry. Accessing resources takes too long, and people aren't very friendly. It affects all aspects of my life, including family, work, and community."

CV R-TAC UPDATES

Kern County Superintendent of Schools

The Community School Initiatives team at KCSOS is excited to welcome Dr. Octavio Patiño as our newest member. With his extensive expertise Dr. Patino will play a critical role in advancing our Community Schools initiatives and in fostering transformational leadership across systems.

Stanislaus County Office of Education

Great news! SCOE will host boot camps and communities of practice for northern Community Schools' grantees, with expanded services at the Modesto office. The SCOE team has also grown, adding Warren Scott as a consultant to support alongside Eric Ranes, CS program manager.
